About the Show...

The Spring Show at Krohn Conservatory celebrates our strong ties with our Sister Cities from around the world. Entitled "Seven Sister Cities", the show invites you to explore the individual highlights of each country's garden. Blooming hydrangeas, fragrant freesias, and colorful snapdragons are showcased among brilliant pansies and bountiful coleus. Flowering azaleas as well as stunning astilbes remind us all that Spring will soon be here! As you enjoy the sights and smells of the various gardens, take notice of the unique additions to each display.

About the Designer...

This year's Spring show was designed by Krohn florist, Mary Ann Phillips. This is Mary Ann's first Krohn show design.

Friends of Krohn...

Membership in the Friends of Krohn has many great benefits. Not only can you help support our unique facility, but as a member, you can also save 10% in our gift shop and receive free admission to special events at Krohn. For more information about the Friends of Krohn, stop by the Visitor's Center.

About the Gardens...

In Cincinnati, formal relationships with seven Sister Cities have been formed. Each garden space represents one of our sister cities:

Taipei-Hsien, Taiwan

Taiwan is enriched by the cultures of 11 indigenous peoples. The oil paper umbrellas included in this garden are a traditional art form in Taiwan.

Gifu, Japan

The Japanese stone lanterns found in this garden space are typical of those used in Japanese tea gardens. Tea ceremonies were often held in the evenings and light was needed to guide guests to the tearoom.

Kharkiv, Ukraine

A display of Ukrainian hand painted eggs is featured in this garden. These beautiful eggs are available for sale in our gift shop.

Liuzhou, China

This beautiful 25 ft. Chinese Dragon kite comes to us from China. A tail made up of 25 silk discs with assorted patterns balanced with feathers follows the large and colorful head. Dragons are referred to as the divine mythical creature that brings with it ultimate abundance, prosperity and good fortune.

Harare, Zimbabwe

These African sculptures are hand carved in Harare and are on loan from the collection of Dr. Clyde Henderson. Another piece from his collection is displayed in the Bonsai gallery.

Nancy, France

The Eiffel Tower was built for the International Exhibition of Paris of 1889 commemorating the centenary of the French Revolution. The miniature Eiffel Tower in our garden was built by Cincinnati Parks staff. The decorative pots are on loan from Le Mistral in Mariemont.

Munich, Germany

This Castle of Air sculpture is actually a scale model of one that has been donated by the city of Munich as part of the Sister Cities program. The permanent structure, which is 20 feet tall and 25 feet across, will be unveiled in the new Theodore M. Berry International Friendship Park this spring.

About Sister Cities...

The Sister Cities movement began in 1956, when President Dwight D. Eisenhower challenged the American people to develop international relationships at the local level. The mission: by creating meaningful relationships that promote the learning and sharing of cultures, we could help ensure peace for the future. As of today, 1,283 US cities have 2,191 sister city relationships in 137 countries.

A Sister Cities agreement comes about when a U.S. community forms a lasting partnership with a community in another country.
